GIANT DARWIN TULIPS

The Queen of All Tulips. Too much cannot be said in favor of the Darwins for outdoor culture. The remarkably brilliant coloring and splendid substance of the globular or cup-shaped flowers, their large size, with long, strong stems of 20 to 30 inches, also robust growth, make them unsurpassed for May blossoms. Usually in bloom by Mothers' Day (second Sunday in May). They remain quite perfect a long time after being cut. They can be forced easily for March blossoming. The popularity of the Darwins is simply phenomenal. You should plant liberally of them. For greatest satisfaction we recommend planting named varieties only. The apricot, bronze and copper shades are secured in the Breeders, listed below:

Old Dutch Garden Tulips

Called Breeder Tulips—Darwin Class

This class of late-blooming Tulips are among the very popular outdoor bloomers, coming in with the Darwins. They are of a peculiar type, and they are exceptionally strong and sturdy. In growth and shape, they are much like Darwins. There are no plain bright or lively colors in them, such as secured in the Darwins, but there are some extraordinary bronze, coffee-brown velvet and golden yellow edged blooms among them. This type supplies the yellow, apricot, bronze and copper shades missing in the Darwins, also other distinct shades. The colors of bronze, brown, buff, and dark shades prevail. The flowers are extra large and sturdy, on long stems.

Colorado Blue Spruce

(Mountain Grown)

This being an evergreen tree, fall planting is suitable; in fact late fall is the best, since their growth starts very early in the spring. Ours are native trees gathered in the Rocky Mountains, then transplanted to nursery, where remains for several years, thus 2 or 3 times transplanted.

Carefully taken up with a ball of native soil wrapped around the roots. Give abundance of moisture throughout first winter.

Size averaging 30 inches tall 5.00
